

Golden State Water: Flood and Emergency Preparedness

Golden State Water Company would like to remind customers that recent storms in some parts of California could cause major flooding.

To help prepare for an emergency, here are a few steps you can take:

- Be aware. Monitor weather conditions closely, especially in areas that are prone to flooding.
- Have an evacuation plan and practice it.
- Make or purchase an emergency preparedness kit.
- Keep a list of important contacts such as public safety agencies and utilities. Always call 911 first during an emergency.
- Learn how and where to turn off utilities like water, natural gas and electricity.
